Gunman Is Shot at Mabelvale

MABELVALE, Ark. (AP) — Deputy sheriffs shot and severely wounded a resident of this Little Rock suburb Thursday, and later quoted a neighbor as saying the man remarked that he would "kill more than that guy in Texas."

Fred Larch, 36, underwent surgery for three hours in a Little Rock hospital after he was shot twice in the head and in the leg and ankle.

Deputy M. W. Finton said he shot the man after Larch had threatened him and another deputy, Roy Glover, with a .30 caliber rifle.

Larch was listed as being in poor condition Thursday night by a spokesman for St. Vincent Infirmary.

Larch, a nightwatchman at the Pyramid Life Insurance Building in Little Rock, is the father of four children, three of whom are in school.

Finton said there were reports of shooting in the neighborhood before officers arrived, but that apparently no one was shot, although there were bullet holes in Larch's house and car.

A woman told officers that Larch had said he would kill

Arkansan Joins Staff at Auburn

AUBURN: Robert H. "Bob" Loe, former Arkansas resident, has joined the state staff of the Auburn University Extension Service, according to Dr. Fred R. Robertson, Auburn University vice president for Extension.

Loe will serve as agronomist and seed specialist for the Extension Service and Secretary for the Alabama Crop Improvement Association. Before moving to Auburn, Loe was Director of Seed Production for McNair Seed Company, Laurinburg, N. C. Prior to this he was assistant agronomist at the Delta Branch Experiment Station, Stoneville, Miss. engaged in cotton improvement research. Earlier he managed a diversified farming operation near Arkadelphia, Ark. for Reynolds Metal Company. At one time he was inspector for Arkansas State Plant Board.

Loe earned his B.S.A. degree in 1951 and a M.S. degree in 1955 both from the University of Arkansas, and has done other graduate work at North Carolina State University.

Mr. and Mrs. Loe and children, Bobby and Nancy, live at 230 Chewacla Drive West, Auburn. Mrs. Loe is the former Lila Cottingham of Prescott, Ark. Mr. Loe's parents are the late Hix Loe and Mrs. Winnie Bell Loe of Prescott.

more than the man in Texas, Glover said.

The "man in Texas" was Charles Joseph Whitman who was fatally shot at the University of Texas tower at Austin after Whitman killed 14 persons and wounded 30 on Aug. 1.

Whitman killed his wife and mother before he took his sniper's stand in the tower.

The deputies said they stopped near Larch's house to investigate a routine complaint that someone was shooting in the neighborhood.

"We thought it was just someone shooting out in the woods," Finton said.

Glover said they stopped to ask directions when a man got out of a car and walked toward them armed with a rifle.

"He ordered us to get out of the car and stand in front of it and he kept his rifle on us all the time," Glover said.

"We didn't try to go for our guns or he would have shot us right there," he added.

Glover said Larch threatened them and the officers told him they had families and were only trying to help.

"Finally he told us to get in the car and get out of there," Glover said. "We left as fast as we could. We weren't sure but what he might shoot us after we got in the car."

The deputies took cover behind a nearby postoffice after calling for help and soon sighted the man walking toward them.

"As he approached, I told him to drop his gun," Finton said. "He started to raise it, I shot. He dropped to his knees."

Finton said Larch started to Education Money Bill Is Approved

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Both the Senate and House have passed broad education bills which would pour additional billions of dollars into the elementary and high school aid program over the next two years.

The Senate passed its $6.4-billion version of the legislation late Thursday 54 to 16. A few hours later, the House cleared its $5.7-billion measure by a 237-97 vote.

Both would authorize funds well beyond the approximately $4.4 billion recommended by President Johnson.

Sponsors said they do not anticipate any great difficulty in working out a compromise bill at a Senate-House conference expected to be held early next week.

The final measure will extend for the current 1967 fiscal year and for 1968 the landmark federal aid to education bill enacted in 1965.

That law was estimated to provide grants for 90 per cent of the nation's 26,000 school districts in the first year, with the emphasis on improving education for children from poor families.

Sponsors said this year's bills liberalize the aid formula and will mean that many more schools will be covered.

In the Senate, Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen offered a series of amendments to cut the bill, but all were defeated by big margins.

His attempt to send the measure back to the Labor Committee with instructions to reduce it to the level of Johnson's budget was slapped down 47 to 23.

In the House, most of the debate centered on the efforts of the federal government to achieve racial desegregation of schools under the powers of the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

Critics of Commissioner of Education Harold Howe II won adoption of two floor amendments aimed at Howe's efforts to achieve desegregation.

One would take away his power to defer any school funds for a district pending the hearing it is entitled to under the 1964 law. But it did not end his right to withhold funds once it had been determined the 1964 act was violated.

The other would prevent the commissioner from "requiring the assignment or transportation of students or teachers to overcome racial imbalance" in schools.

However, local districts, if they wished, still could use federal funds to bus pupils or put into effect other programs to try to end de facto segregation.

raise his rifle again "so I had to shoot again. The second shot dropped him."

The Rev. Doyle Ingram, pastor of the First Missionary Baptist Church here, said Larch was a "very nice, pleasant fellow to be around."

Prisoners and Visitors Alike

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP) — Jailor Carlos Morales Andrade says so many visitors swarm into the Juarez City Jail it is hard to tell them from the prisoners. He told the Juarez City Council that some of the better dressed inmates pose as visitors and walk out to freedom.

He has recommended that prisoners wear distinctive uniforms.

Inez Lashes Along Coast of Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Hurricane Inez lashed the northern shore of the Yucatan Peninsula today, but the New Orleans Weather Bureau said there were indications the storm's center had changed course and might miss land as it headed for the Bay of Campeche.

As Inez pelted the coastline with torrential rain, violent wind and high tides, the bureau said reconnaissance planes indicated a change to a west-southwesterly course. It said if the trend continued, the storm would move parallel to the coast for the next 12 to 18 hours, lessening the threat to the peninsula.

It located Inez just off the coast about 100 miles northeast of inland Merida.

With top winds of 110 miles per hour, Inez hurled her fury against the Yucatan Coast after 14 days of battering Caribbean and Bahama islands and the west coast of Florida.

Reports to Mexico City said the hurricane was hitting particularly hard at the northwest corner of Yucatan between the towns of Rio de Lagartos and Inez pushed the sea over the top of Progreso's seawall and flooded streets three blocks back. Torrential rains began hitting the port early Thursday night and flooded many other streets.

Many of Progreso's 15,000 residents fled before the storm. Gov. Luis Torres Mejias pleaded for federal aid. Trucks, trains and a caravan of buses evacuated refugees.

Those who stayed sought shelter in the port's stronger buildings or on high ground as the steadily increasing winds kicked up high seas off the port.

Federal troops, sailors and police patrolled the city to aid those who remained and to guard against looting.

Yucatan juts from Mexico into the gulf like a swollen foot. A low, rolling tableland of tropical rain forests, farms and ranches, most of its people are called Yucatecos, descendants of the Maya Indians whose advanced civilization flourished shortly after the time of Christ.

Inez bore down on the peninsula after flouting the usual route taken by hurricanes. Most storms, once they reach the gulf, turn toward the U.S. mainland. But a cool air mass blocked Inez on the north.

Christian Outpost Is Really Distant

By CONRAD FINK
NONG KHAI, Thailand (AP)—Few of the distant Christian outposts manned by Americans throughout the world could be more distant than one in Nong Khai.

Here, deep in Buddhist country, nine American Catholic priests guard their faith in the rice paddies and tangled forests along northern Thailand's Mekong River boundary with Laos. All are members of the 234-year-old, semimonastic Redemptorist Order, supported in Thailand by the St. Louis Province of the Redemptorists.

The superior of this mission—"the boss" as he's known locally—is a 41-year-old shirt-sleeve priest, the Rev. Francis Gautreaux, who after 14 years in Thailand says home is St. Alphonsus Church in New Orleans, La.

By river boat, jungle truck or slogging on foot through monsoon mud, the priests move far into the interior ministering to 6,000 Thai and refugee Vietnamese Catholics in backwoods villages of four northern Thailand provinces.

Proselytizing is but one of their missions. As Father Gautreaux put it, "We do what we can."

At present, doing what they can includes providing stop-gap medical care, setting up a silk-worm farm, helping farmers irrigate their land, and digging wells. By helping this way the priests hope to break through the indifference or outright suspicion with which many Thais regard foreign missionaries.

In northern Thailand, where Buddhism is a way of life in addition to being a religion, the Catholics say they sometimes are regarded as captives of "evil spirits." Some Catholic lay workers even have been accused of preaching communism.

With the exception of Father Gautreaux, who describes himself as "chief mechanic and housekeeper," all priests spend three weeks out of four traveling in the interior. They say mass in fluent Thai, eat local food and sleep in villagers' huts.

All this is not without hazards. In eight years in Thailand, for example, the Rev. William Bolin, 35, has had malaria, hepatitis, various other "minor" ailments, and a broken arm suffered when his river boat crashed into a sand bar.

Father Bolin, called "the river boy" because he visits villages by boat, is a native of St. Louis, Mo.

Despite their isolation, the priests say they have no morale problem, no trouble keeping their spirits up.

However, one concession has been made to northern Thailand's extraordinary lack of entertainment: Table tennis played in the mission's reading room.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—If you don't like watching sports or very elderly movies, you'd better love politics. Currently just about the only alternative on Sunday afternoon is to leave the television set dark.

The three major networks are buckling into their annual preoccupation with the ballot. ABC took the initial plunge Sunday, inaugurating a six part series, "Elections, '66" which will be a weekly feature until early November. The opening show covered the big national elections picture with interviews with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey for the Democrats and Barry Goldwater for the Republicans. Neither said anything much that was new.

CBS, also with six shows on tap—these called "Campaign, '66"—will begin its examination of issues and candidates next week. NBC has two hour-long shows in preparation for its Sunday schedules Oct. 30 and Nov. 6.

NBC used that hour Sunday for its report on the summer's racial problems, called "Agony of Two Cities."

The program focused on disturbances during the summer in Cleveland, Ohio, and Chicago.

While CBS last week concentrated on the so-called "white backlash," NBC dealt primarily with the causes of Negro discontent.

It was the same discouraging picture of bad housing, lack of employment and opportunities. The most effective scenes were those showing slum conditions and scenes of disturbances in which hatred could be seen on faces of the rioters.

It was an interesting presentation, but its effect was reduced somewhat by the poor quality of the sound in some instances. Often, too, the quality of the color was poor.

"The Jackie Gleason show" on CBS Saturday night was a musical comedy version of "The Honeymooners," and was both tuneful and funny. Art Carney, back in his engaging old groove, is a fine foil for the broader comedy of Gleason.

This column is for young people their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help US!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to Helen Help US!, this newspaper.

ANSWER TO DIVORCEE

Dear Helen: I'd like to answer "Divorcee" who knows all about "married man passes." I am married 20 years, work only at home, and therefore am a student of the "divorced woman pass."

My husband's place of business is 75 percent women. The stories he tells me!

When females get a man alone, they start telling him about his wife's shortcomings and how she pays too much attention to the kids, etc. Oh, very subtle, so that it builds THEM up as prizes.

A divorcee certainly DOES cry on a man's shoulder, telling him what a lousy marriage she had, and how lucky HIS wife is. As soon as the divorce proceedings are started, her money goes on stylish clothes and fancy hairdos. The better to attract the next victim. She may act sad, but she's letting him know with her little attentions that she can be had.

Another trick of hers is to act helpless, ask advice on repairs for her car and house, where to find an apartment, what to do about her ex. And always that little dig, "Are you sure your wife won't mind?" when she asks a favor.

No man can run errands or be a listening ear for another woman long without his wife minding very much—and then she has another weapon: "You're so henpecked."

Well, I've successfully weathered the "divorced woman pass" for 20 years and my husband and I laugh about it together. The stories I hear at the end of the day about such people as "Divorcee" make good conversation. She has a nerve saying the married men make all the passes. She all but lassos them, if they even glance her way. —Happily Married.

Dear H.M. Should a "Happily Married" woman be so bitter—or should I ask? —H.

In one census, they will check former ones. This information is accepted by the Social Security office as proof of age. —Interested Party.

Dear "Interested Party": According to our local Social Security office, the charge is now $5.00. When the cost of living skyrockets, so, too, does the cost of proving it. Thanks for your help! —H.

Dear Helen: Could you please tell me something that might make our daughter realize a bare forehead isn't indecent exposure? I almost had her convinced against those awful stringy bangs. Got a lovely hairdo for her and the girls at the beauty shop raved about how becoming it was. She liked it until she walked in the door and her sister said, "Yuk!"

That had more weight than a dozen adult compliments, naturally.

Do you suppose if I raved about how I love those bangs hanging in her eyes, she'd figure if parents like them they must be something wrong with the style and change? —YUK

Dear Yuk: Unless you're Sarah Bernhardt the Second, don't try! Just cool it. Before long bangs will go the way of the bobbi sock. (And another new fad will spring up to drive parents batty.) —H.

Personal To Wondering: That chip on your boss's shoulder comes from the blockhead above it. . . But find another job before you tell him so. —H.

Predictions in Arkansas Football

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas, clinging to a 24-game regular season winning string, faces another awesome foe this week — perhaps the strongest opponent on the 1966 schedule. Baylor, featuring the passing and leadership of quarterback Terry Southall, rolls into Fayetteville Saturday intent on just one thing—spilling the Porkers and launching their own bid for a Southwest Conference football title.

The Bears have the talent to do just this, but Arkansas has shown improvement in some phases of play each week.

Last week Harry Jones vaulted into the prominence he enjoyed most of last year. The Oklahoma speedster dashed to three touchdowns, two on passing bombs from Jon Brittenum.

The topsy-turvy SWC never provides any cinches, but it would appear that the Razorbacks would have a better-than-average chance of a third straight unbeaten regular season if they get by the Bears and Texas next week.

Baylor will be primed for the kill, but the Razorbacks will prevail. Arkansas 28-13.

Louisiana Tech at Arkansas State — The high-scoring Indians had an extra week to prepare for this one against a team that usually is the most feared among small colleges in Louisiana. Tech has had little success with the Indians at Jonesboro, but has swept a the games at Ruston. It seems unlikely that Joe Aillet could lose four straight games.

Southern Mississippi, Alabama and McNeese already—but such appears to be the case because this one's in Jonesboro. Arkansas State 14-10.

Southern State at Henderson — The Mulieriders got cranked up last week and they'll roll now. Southern State 14-7.

Arkansas State Teachers at Harding—This is one of two big ones for the Bisons. ASTC got bombed last week and will probably come back strong behind Bobby Tiner. But Harding has Jimmy Howard and more depth. Harding 13-7.

Ouachita vs. Arkansas A&M at Pine Bluff—The game's still matters little since the Weevils are too rugged. A&M 21-6.

Southern University at Arkansas AM&N—The Golden Lions played the SWAC favorite to a virtual standstill last week, losing by three extra points.

Southern has a good reputation, but the Lions have this one at home. AM&N 27-24.

emphasize Argentina's claim to the bleak islands some 300 miles east of Tierra del Fuego.

Argentine and British officials had not decided early today how to get the hijackers and other passengers, who include three children back to Buenos Aires.

They could come on a British ship which sails Monday on a monthly voyage from Port Stanley to Montevideo, Uruguay, or smaller planes might be sent to get them.

The hijacking coincided with the presence in Buenos Aires of Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II, who arrived Monday to attend the world horse jumping championship.

as the guest of Argentina's military president, Gen. Juan Carlos Onganía.

The Airliner, which is owned by the Argentine government, was flying from Buenos Aires to Rio Gallegos, 1,700 miles to the south, when it was seized.

Among the leaders of the hijackers was Maria Cristina Verrier, 27, who owns a small theater in Buenos Aires. The plane landed on the racetrack because Port Stanley has no airstrip.

Britain has held the Falkland since 1833 and rejected all Argentine demands that they be relinquished. They are a refueling station for the British South Atlantic fleet and a staging post for antarctic surveys.

About 2,000 persons—most of British origin—live on the two main islands, East and West Falkland which have a total area of 2,700 square miles.

Painting May Bring $300,000

TORONTO (AP) — An art restorer has bought a painting he believes is a Rubens that would bring as much as $300,000 at auction.

Harcourt Syms, 32, said he paid "under $25,000" for the painting to a Toronto business man whom he would not identify. He said the businessman purchased the painting from a Toronto family which he owned it for about 100 years.

Palmer Is Newest Series Hero

By MURRAY CHASS
BALTIMORE (AP) — Max Palmer played only bit parts in Route 66 and Highway Patrol, but his son Jim played the starring role in the Saga of Chavez Ravine.

Palmer, the younger, pitched a four-hitter, and became the youngest player ever to record a shutout in World Series play as the Baltimore Orioles whipped the Los Angeles Dodgers 6-0 Thursday and took a 2-0 lead before the teams moved to Baltimore.

In completely befuddling the Dodgers, Palmer threw another shock into a capacity crowd at Dodger Stadium in scenic Chavez Ravine.

Palmer, who will be 21 years old Oct. 15, at one time lived in Beverly Hills, which is only about 20 miles west of Chavez Ravine. His father was an actor then, playing small parts in such television productions as Route 66, Highway Patrol, Climax and Playhouse 90.

"Are you kidding me?" exclaimed Palmer, the handsome, 6-foot-3 Baltimore idol, when someone asked if he had any desire to be an actor.

"But I just did a pancake commercial, and if they saw that they'd never look at me."

He eats pancakes for breakfast every time he is scheduled to pitch, a practice Manager Hank Bauer might have his other pitchers adopt since Palmer was the winningest member on the staff with 15 victories this season.

After Lou Johnson's second inning double, the Dodgers got just three harmless singles. And the second inning was the only one in which they put more than one man on base. As soon as they did that, loading the bases, Palmer ended the inning by getting Sandy Koufax on a pop-up.

Palmer, who is in only his second year in the majors and third in professional ball, said: "I had a good fast ball and a good curve," the Oriole explained. "And that's what we're supposed to pitch to them."

$100 Plate Dinner Just Too Much

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
PAWTUCKET, R.I. (AP) — Norman J. Jacques, a member of Rhode Island's House of Representatives and a law school student, says $100-a-plate is too much for an evening with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

He is scheduled to speak at a Democratic fund raising dinner in Pawtucket Oct. 18.

In a letter Wednesday to John F. Capaldi, Democratic state chairman, Jacques asked for a "student rate" saying the $100 subscription is just too high for him. And if he took a date, he said, the evening "would be financially ruinous."

Pollution Control Needed

KINGSTON, R.I. (AP) — If water pollution cannot be controlled, clams and oysters may become extinct, says an oceanographer.

Dr. John A. Knauss of the University of Rhode Island says the school has established two federally-sponsored pollution laboratories at its Narragansett Bay laboratories.

Space Center Open to Public

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — The Marshall Space Flight Center opens its doors to the public for the first time in five years Oct. 15 to allow a look at America's largest booster rocket.

The occasion is "Space Day 1966" and officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration expect thousands of visitors to view the Saturn V booster which is 33 feet in diameter and 138 feet long.

Hope Has a Rough Fight Ahead Tonight

By LARRY DON WRIGHT
Hope Star SportsWriter

The Bobcats take a jaunt to the other side of the state today for their roughest team of the season against Arkansas' number one Class AA team, the Crossett Eagles tonight.

The Cats are definitely the underdogs, but if they could manage an upset which certainly isn't out of the question, they would find themselves tied for the top spot in Region 4AA.

Judging chiefly from the teams' past performances this season, the experts are picking the Eagles to win their sixth victory of the year without defeat tonight.

A far as predicting goes (but it can never be relied on) this is pretty sound reasoning since Crossett leads the district in yards rushing, defense against rushing, total points scored, and first downs.

Hope in the meantime ranks third in rushing. However they do lead the pack in defense against passing, a category which they have won for the last two years.

But pass defense shouldn't be to much of a factor against the Eagles since they obviously rely more heavily on their running game.

But the big title that the Eagles are trying to claim for the second consecutive year is that of "District 4AA Champions". In this department of district rankings Hope is running in a four way tie for second. Still the Cats may be the last threat of stopping Crossett in their 4AA football quest, since the Eagles have already defeated Malvern.

Although the veteran sports writers and predictors are favoring Crossett, they were even more convinced last week as to the outcome of the Arkadelphia-Camden game only to find that they had made a mistake. Arkadelphia who prior to last week had not scored a point knocked off Camden 26-18, much to the amazement of many.

Also it's doubtful that many prophets were picking David kill Goliath either.

Of course all this is not saying that Hope will upset Crossett tonight because there's still the question of whether the Bobcats have the sling shot to do it with. Although the Cats have been able to score in all their games this season, they have yet to meet up with the likes of the Eagle's defense, not to mention their potent offensive attack.

The Eagles are under a new head coach this year in former Bobcat head coach John Pierce, Coach Pierce left Hope in 1962 for an assistantship at Crossett after five years as Hope's top coach.

During his reign from 1958-1962 Pierce led Hope to two 4AA Championships in addition to its first undefeated untied season in the school's history in 1958.

Over the last twelve years of rivalry between the Bobcats and Eagles, competition has been exceptionally close as there have been only three or four onesided affairs.

Crossett spoiled the Bobcats homecoming a year ago, 23-7, for which the Cats would like to make amends. Tonight would be the ideal opportunity since the Eagles will be celebrating their homecoming. The bobcats managed to do just that two years ago when they married Crossett's festivities, 15-0.

The Bobcats have been hard at work all week preparing for a possible upset tonight. The Cats almost pulled off a surprise last week before falling to Malvern, 13-7, but this week Bobcat Head Coach, Freddie Glaze, feels that his team can do it.

The kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m. in Forrest Stadium at Crossett. For those fans who will not be able to attend the game it will be broadcast over KXAR.

Army Faces Powerful Notre Dame

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Army, faced with the awesome task of containing Notre Dame's explosive attack this weekend isn't backing off by any means.

The Cadets, who've won three straight under new Coach Tom Cahill, travel to South Bend, Ind., Saturday to face the unbeaten Irish.

Notre Dame, keyed by the flashy sophomore battery of Terry Hanratty and Jim Seymour, rates as a four touchdown favorite. The third-ranked Irish have rolled past Purdue and Northwestern in their first two games.

Cahill and the Cadets recognize the power of this Notre Dame team but aren't awestruck by it.

"I've read about the odds," the Army coach said. "They don't scare us at all. We recognize whom we're meeting. But we think we can do the job ourselves."

In the only game matching Top Ten teams, eight-ranked Tennessee faces No. 9 Georgia Tech at Atlanta.

The game will be nationally televised (ABC-TV 4 p.m. EDT).

Dewey Warren, a flashy passer, holds the key for the Volunteers, who must stop the power running of Tech's Lenny Snow.

Top-ranked Michigan State battles arch-rival Michigan at East Lansing and the Spartans rate as two-touchdown favorites.

UCLA, No. 1, goes against Rice at Houston and G. Beban and Co. are a three-touchdown choice.

In other major games, defending national champion Alabama, hoping to climb from its No. 4 berth, faces Clemson at Tuscaloosa and Arkansas, ranked fifth, risks its 24-game win string—in college football—against Baylor and Terry Southall at Fayetteville.

Washington, which upset Ohio State last week, faces sixth-ranked Southern California, while No. 7 Nebraska meets Wisconsin. Florida, ranked 10th, faces Florida State.

In other major games around the country, Navy battles Syracuse and Princeton and Dartmouth, the Ivy League standouts, clash in the East; Purdue hosts Iowa and Ohio State visits Illinois in the Midwest; Mississippi faces Georgia and Duke takes on Maryland in the South; and Oklahoma tackles Texas and California hosts San Jose State in the Southwest and West.

Dodgers Have Backs to the Wall

By MIKE RATHET

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers, who have their backs to the wall because of the sun in their eyes, flew into Baltimore today after what Manager Walt Alston termed the worst two-day World Series performance during his 13-year reign.

Alston had another 24 hours to think about it on an off-day before the Series resumes Saturday with Claude Osteen scheduled to pitch against Baltimore's Wally Bunker.

Alston, however, didn't have to dig down in his memory to classify the Dodgers' performance in dropping 5-2 and 6-0 decisions to the Orioles while making just seven hits and committing six errors.

"We've been two down before but we didn't look this bad," Alston said. "I never saw us look so bad two days in a row."

If the Dodgers looked bad Wednesday in collecting only one hit off Moe Drabowsky in 6-2-3 innings of relief pitching, they looked worse when the returns were all in on Thursday's game.

The Dodgers collected only four hits as Jim Palmer became the youngest pitcher in Series history to post a shutout—and they collected a record-tying six errors.

Willie Davis was the No. 1 culprit, committing errors in such rapid succession during the fifth inning that he not only surpassed the one-inning individual record with three but also tied the team record for an inning.

"I just lost them in the sun," Davis explained after the game. "There's nothing you can do about a case like that. I got a quick peek at the ball the second time. I made a stab at it but it was no use."

"If I could see the ball, you know I'm gonna catch it."

Paul Blair, the Orioles' center fielder, also said he had difficulty picking up the ball and explained:

"The screen in back of home plate gives off a funny kind of golden glare, and it's hard to pick up the ball. When a fly ball gets in the sun, there's nothing you can do about it but hope it falls in the glove."

The golden glare proved the complete undoing of the Dodgers' golden left arm—Sandy Koufax. Koufax and Palmer, the Orioles' 20-year-old right-hander, were locked in a scoreless duel when the sun fell in on the Dodgers in the fifth inning.

Boog Powell started things with an opposite field single, only the second hit off Koufax, and then Dave Johnson fouled

Nicklaus Favored in World Match

By RONALD THOMSON
VIRGINIA WATER, England

(AP) — Arnold Palmer and Gary Player rivals in Golf and partners in Television — were to meet today in a 36-hole semifinal of the World Match Play Tournament, and both contended they have been hitting the ball better than ever after a rest from the game.

In the other semifinal, Billy Casper, U.S. Open Champion, was paired against Jack Nicklaus, reigning British Open king.

Player, who has been resting on his farm in South Africa for the last two months, has always said that the Wentworth course suits his game. But in fact all these four star semifinalists — the biggest names in world golf — took the course apart in practice, and in Thursday's first round.

Nicklaus, the 5-2 favorite, defeated Dave Thomas of Wales 6 and 5. Palmer overwhelmed Roberto de Vicenzo of Argentina 10 and 8.

"The partial rest I've had has done me a tremendous amount of good," Palmer said. "This has been the first time in six or eight months that I haven't felt any pain from my strained left shoulder."

Player squeezed out a 1-up victory over England's Neil Coles, the leading money winner on the British circuit this year.

Casper played tactically golf all the way against Peter Thomson of Australia in the opening round and won 3 and 2.

SOPHOMORE WHIZ Maurice (Mo) Moorman has yet to play a college football game, and already the Texas A&M tackle is being billed as a prospective All-America. He's a cousin of Frank Beard, the pro golfer.

Hijacking Was Protest to Britain

By OSCAR SERRAT
BUENOS AIRES, Arg. (AP)

— Britannia still ruled the little Falkland Islands in the South Atlantic today despite an invasion by 18 young Argentine nationalists who hijacked an airliner with 48 persons aboard and forced it to land on a racetrack in the Falkland capital.

The four-engine Argentine DC4 was stranded on the 3,600-foot racetrack, with one wheel stuck a foot deep and the track apparently too short to permit a safe takeoff with passengers and fuel aboard.

The hijackers were reported holed up in the airliner, while the 25 other passengers and five crew members were lodged in homes in Port Stanley, the Falkland capital.

The armed extremists from the rightwing FI Condor organization seized the plane over the South Atlantic Wednesday to

Memo on a Bus Helped in College
By PHIL BROWN
EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A MEMO on a bus helped put Glora Clocklin in college — where educators through she should be, but where her pocketbook said she couldn't be.
MEMO — More Education,
More Opportunity — is a Michigan program aimed at giving a stay-in-school boost to the student whose grades aren't tops but who has a "glint in the eye" to succeed.
In searching for that student,
MEMO placed advertisements around the state, including placards on buses.
That's how Miss Clocklin discovered the program.
"It has always been my desire to become a registered nurse," she wrote to MEMO headquarters here. Miss Clock-lin, who graduated from a Grand Rapids high school in 1964, was working as a technician at Grand Rapids' Butterworth Hospital.
"My grades were above average but nothing spectacular," she wrote, "so competitive scholarships are not the answer.
My financial situation leaves much to be desired."
Miss Clocklin added that her mother was sole support for a brother and sister still in school.
From MEMO headquarters
the letter went to Miss Edna Sargent, registrar at Northwestern Michigan Community College in Traverse City. Miss Sargent investigated, received excellent recommendations for the girl, and found the "need was absolute."
The school arranged for a $400
National Defense loan and $600

in matching funds from its Economic Opportunity grant allocation for Miss Clocklin.
"I would say MEMO has made it possible for a very fine and above-average student and young lady to attend college without being constantly harassed with working, and worrying about where her next tuition money was coming from," said Miss Sargent.
"I'm anxious to get started," said Miss Clocklin, 20, who will finish her nursing studies in about two years.

Democrats

Not a Big,

Happy Group

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Fog
moving in, things getting mixed up, and elections five weeks
Last spring President Johnson talked of touring the country at every chance to seek its support. He made a few trips and speeches for Democratic candidates before Labor Day, and none since.
Then in September he said he would go this month — as the Soloist — Mrs. Haskell Jones,
6:00 p.m. The PYF will meet for supper and then have their discussion.
MONDAY
7:00 p.m. The choir will meet for practice
Ouachita Presbytery will meet in Camden Monday and Tuesday.
TUESDAY
10:00 a.m. Circle 1, Senior Room, Mrs. Fred Holder, Chairman.
Circle 2, Fellowship Hall, Mrs.
James Branch, Chairman.
Circle 3, Chapel, Mrs. Lex
Helms, Jr., Chairman.
Circle 5, Mrs. Tom McLarty's.
Mrs. Tom McLarty, chairman.
7:30 p.m. Circle 4, at Mrs. J.
M. Duffie's. Mrs. J. M. Duffie,
chairman.

But fellow Democrat and constant critic Sen. J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas belittled the prospect of much result from "such a cozy little group." He called the trip politically motivated.
This might have seemed right up the Republicans' alley, but they quickly endorsed the trip and canceled out the chance hereafter of accusing Johnson of making the trip to avoid testing his popularity with the voters.

For one, Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, leader of the House Republicans, brushed off presidential efforts in campaigns.
"Words from a President won't help anybody," he said.
And within the Democratic party, Vice President Hubert H.
Humphrey goofed a couple of times, once with Johnson, once with Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., who has been more popular in the public opinion polls than Johnson or Humphrey.

Humphrey said, "President
Johnson is a little more mature, responsible, and more in the public interest" than Kennedy.
He tried to make up for this later by saying he meant Kennedy has "a good deal more freedom of action."

He goofed with Johnson by indicating publicly the President wanted him as his running mate again in the 1968 elections.
But later Johnson wouldn't say yes or no when newsmen asked about it.
The Democrats, not one big happy family, have other troubles.
In Maryland a two-term liberal member of Congress, Rep.
Carlton R. Sickles, withheld his support from George P. Mahoney when the latter beat him for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Mahoney's main talking point was his opposition to open housing.
In Georgia, Rep. Charles L.
Weltner, not in the governorship race at all, dropped out of the race for a third term in Congress after Lester G. Maddox won the party's gubernatorial nomination. He refused to support Maddox, an all-out segregationist, in the election race against a Republican. He can't stand what Maddox stands for.
Former Republican Vice President Richard M. Nixon has listed war and inflation as this election's two big issues. He's behind Johnson on the war but not the way he is handling it, he says.
But Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., says, "We are not going to make the war a political issue." And Ford said "whether it becomes an issue depends on the mood of the American people."

Republicans, critical of Johnson's handling of the war, want him to step it up.
Former President Dwight D.
Eisenhower said, "I would do anything that would bring the war to an honorable conclusion as rapidly as I could." Would he use nuclear weapons? He said,
"I would not automatically preclude anything."

It is only in the West, and especially in America, that I realized with great sadness,
and horror that I have not been living before—just existing. I was suffocating in a cell without light or air.
—Soviet author Valery Tarsis,
who doesn't plan to return
to Russia on tour in the United States.

We don't get paid, but we sure get criticized.
—Luci Johnson, on herself
and her sister, Lynda.
We're subsidizing millionaires who deposit their money in banks in Europe (and who want the war to continue).
—Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich.,
on profiteers in Viet Nam.

It is only in the West, and especially in America, that I realized with great sadness,
and horror that I have not
been living before—just existing. I was suffocating in a cell without light or air.
—Soviet author Valery Tarsis,
who doesn't plan to return
to Russia on tour in the United States.

Negotiators Trying to Stall Strike

NEW YORK (AP) - Negotiators continued talks in hopes of averting a strike today by the AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union against American Airlines, the nation's second largest domestic airline.

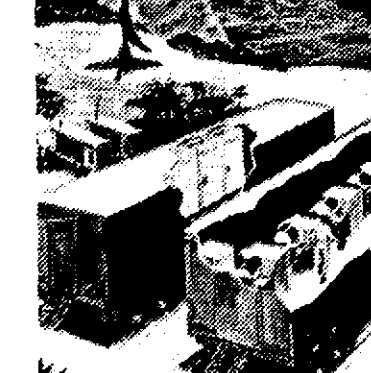

The union said it would call its 12,000 nonoperating employees out on strike at 6:45 a.m., EDT. American, which operates 1,000 flights carrying 36,000 passengers to 44 cities in the United States, Canada and Mexico each day, escaped last summer's crippling 43-day strike by the Machinists Union against five major airlines.

Involved in the current contract dispute with American are ground crewmen, mechanics, clerks, communication workers and supply personnel. They overwhelmingly rejected the latest company offer.

The union said it was seeking a 30 per cent wage increase. Hourly wages for its members now range from $2.54 to $3.57, the TWU said.

The company said its contract offer included an increase of 59 cents an hour in top wage.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Gal, You Need a Doctor-- To Cure Your Immaturity

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—I am deathly afraid of nurses, doctors and hospitals. I want to take a job but I would have to have a medical examination and I'm afraid they would find something seriously wrong with me. What should I do?

A—It is surprising how many letters of this kind I get. I can assure you the doctor would find something seriously wrong with you—a whopping case of immaturity. People who are afraid the doctor will find tuberculosis, heart disease or cancer do themselves much harm by delaying an examination that would enable the doctor to treat these diseases early enough to do some good.

A century and a half ago it is true that a hospital was a place to go to die. The chances of coming out alive were slim and some of the old fear persists.

There is another group of persons, the chronic complainers, who are afraid to go to the doctor because they are afraid he won't find anything seriously wrong with them. These persons are also immature. A mature person wants to know the truth and to face up to it.

I suspect that my reader is now afraid to open her newspaper for fear I may have answered her letter.

Q—Several times a year my husband is awakened with spells that sound like retching brackets in a three-year contract, American contended this was several cents more than the machinists won in their strike against Eastern, National, Trans World, United and Northwest airlines.

The company also said its offer on fringe benefits was better than that given the machinists. The machinists signed a three-year contract, effective last Jan. 1, which will bring the top hourly scale to $4.08.

A company source reported the most difficult unresolved issue was a union demand for the proposed wage package to be included in a two-year contract, instead of in three years.

The TWU members first voted strike authorization last Spring. President Johnson named an emergency board and invoked terms of the Railway Labor Act last July 27 to delay the walk-out.

The board, however, made no recommendations for a settlement and said there was a chance the parties could resolve the issues without a strike. In its Aug. 30 report, the board warned against an "exaggerated settlement."

With the 60-day cooling-off period expiring at midnight Monday, President Johnson was left with no legal remedy to head off the strike.

but are caused by a momentary inability to swallow. What is the cause of this?

A—Difficulty in swallowing may be due to an obstruction in or a spasm of the esophagus. There are several causes of severe prolonged spasm but the cause of momentary spasms is not known, largely because the condition is not serious and does not warrant a big government grant. Another difficulty in studying such a case is that it would be hard for a doctor to be present at the time of the occurrence or to make any meaningful observations before the spasm relaxed. Many persons have these spasms but more often while eating than during sleep.

I have had several letters pro and con following my column on animal research. Since I am a great lover of animals, I would like to make it clear that I heartily favor legislation to curb the theft of pet dogs engaged in by some unscrupulous persons. Such legislation should not, however, be used to hamper legitimate research. All reputable animal researchers get their animals from legally established sources and would not think of dealing with a dognaper.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Inside Garland House In Washington , Ark.

The pictures on this page were taken inside the famous Garland House, another attraction in Pioneer Washington. This stately old house of Greek Revival architecture will be opened to the public today in connection with the annual Antique Sale which is being held this weekend in the school building.

UPPER LEFT: A Chickering Piano which is Pre-Civil War is in the Gold Parlor of the house.

MIDDLE LEFT: This beautiful Wine Cabinet is in the foyer of the East entrance and was made of Rosewood sometime before 1800.

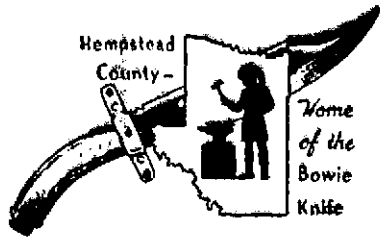

BOTTOM LEFT: This Dresser of Empire period design is in the bedroom along with a Sleigh Bed, Bureau, Night Stand Fireplace which is in every room. The entire bedroom furniture is a gift of the Lafferty family of Little Rock. The Laffertys are descendants of Abraham Block who built the Block-Catts House in Pioneer Washington and which in itself is a major tourist attraction.

UPPER RIGHT: This scene is in the Gold Parlor of the house which shows the Fireplace and Candlelabras, a part of the painting which hung in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William R. King. Mrs. King's estate made possible the restoration of the Garland House. The chair cover is needlepoint and was made in Belgium.

MIDDLE RIGHT: This scene is the Dining Room which is part of a set on loan to the Foundation by Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Sigmon who bought the complete set following World War One. The dining room set is of Queen Anne design, in mahogany, and is copied from the original which is in an English Museum. The silver chest holds Mrs. King's flat silver and other pieces; there are two of these chests.

Bar Association's Crime News Code Called 'Too Rigid'

News coverage of criminal court proceedings is spotlighted in two controversies this week.

At Phoenix, Ariz., Superior Court Judge E. R. Thurman had held in contempt the Phoenix Gazette, the Arizona Republic, and Reporter Bill Prime for ignoring his order prohibiting the coverage of an open hearing in court. But this week the Arizona Supreme Court overruled the lower judge and set the contempt proceedings aside.

Obviously, under our American constitutional stipulation of freedom of speech and press a newspaper reporter has the same privilege as any other private citizen to attend an open court hearing - no more, and no less. But other suspects of crime reporting are being spelled out in unfriendly fashion by the American Bar Association. Recently the association set up a committee of 10 judges and lawyers to draft a proposed "reporting code" - and it was roundly denounced this week by both the Associated Press Managing Editors Association and members of the International Association of Chiefs of Police, the latter being in convention at Philadelphia.

William B. Dickinson, president of the A.P. editors, said the bar association's proposed "code of silence" for judges and lawyers

"could be used to cover up secret arrests and indeed secret trials."

Referring to the proposal to forbid publication of a suspect's previous criminal record Boston Police Chief Edwin M. McNamara said:

"I don't see how we could be more restricted than we are now. I feel the public has a right to know how bad a criminal is and that his record should be printed."

"The more the press blasts the serious criminal in the paper the better we like it," said Police Chief Edward F. Leiss of Metuchen, N. J. "We want the public to be aroused to crime and its seriousness. And I think the public has the right to know."

The police chiefs were unanimous in saying that wide-spread publicity helped rather than hurt the work of law-enforcement agencies.

There you have the crux of the controversy.

The bar association is seeking to guarantee the average citizen accused of a crime his constitutional right to a fair trial before an unprejudiced jury - but, on the other hand, both the police and the press ask the $64 question: What are you going to do in the case of a hardened criminal?

Writing a rule which will do justice to both, calls for all the wisdom of Solomon - and that doesn't describe the present draft of the American Bar Association "code."

What the bar association is trying to do is to recast American press coverage along the lines of the more arbitrary British judicial system. This editor is in sympathy with that effort, on the American principle that it is better 10 guilty persons escape rather than let one innocent person be convicted - but we do have a tougher crime problem than the British, and the bar association's first effort on a "code" is too rigid to be accepted by the police, the press, or the public.

MEXICO CITY (AP) - A pavement roller weighing 10 tons and worth more than $3,000, was stolen recently from a street where it had been parked over the night. Contractor Enrique Aceves Guayao said the machine was left in a street where pavement was being repaired, with a night watchman in charge.

Bombers Hit Enemy in Neutral Zone

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) - U.S. B52 bombers pounded North Viet Nam just above the demilitarized zone Thursday night while tactical U.S. bombers struck 25 times inside the zone and allied troops fought hard just south of it.

As the once neutral buffer area along the 17th Parallel exploded again, the three-pronged allied force waging Operation Irving closed in tight on encircled Communist soldiers near South Viet Nam's central coast, elected by her dormitory at Southern State College to the executive board as representative of Harrod Hall.

A company of the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division spearheading Irving burned down a Viet Cong hamlet 22 miles northwest of Qui Nhon, and American marksmen strafing from gunship helicopters reported killing 20 of the enemy as they fled.

Two miles south of the demilitarized zone, South Vietnamese paratroopers clashed with North Vietnamese army regulars Thursday in a vicious, four-hour battle that took a heavy toll on both sides.

An official spokesman said the South Vietnamese were attacked by a regiment - about 1,500 men - of North Vietnamese four miles southeast of Dong Ha, forward headquarters of U.S. Marines also trying to stop the North Vietnamese drive into the South.

The Vietnamese paratroopers called in U.S. air strikes, artillery support and naval gunfire, and a Vietnamese spokesman estimated 200 North Vietnamese were killed in the prolonged action.

Casualties among the South Vietnamese troops. Were very moderate, meaning they were hit hard.

Seven miles north of the demilitarized zone, B52 bombers hammered in a nighttime raid on North Vietnamese storage areas, truck parks and bivouac sites from which the Communists infiltrate South.

It was the fourth B52 strike in just over two weeks against North Viet Nam. All four have been in the same general area of the infiltration staging areas.

Smaller U.S. tactical bombers flew 25 sorties Thursday against North Vietnamese positions inside the six-mile-wide buffer zone, a U. S. spokesman reported.

Induction Faster Than
Army Training

By SEYMOUR M. HERSH
WASHINGTON (AP) - Barring a major change in Pentagon policy, the National Guard and Army Reserve will continue this fiscal year to induct enlistees at a faster rate than they can be trained, figures showed today.

The Reserve units, which had 133,000 untrained men on hand last June 30, the end of fiscal 1966, revealed they inducted 7,474 men in July and 8,826 in August to fill vacancies caused by normal attrition.

But it also was learned that the Army now plans to train about 85,000 Reserve enlistees by next June - an average of roughly 7,000 per month.

National Guard officials further reported that more than 16,000 guardsmen had signed up in fiscal 1966 for training this year and up to now have not been included in the June 30 untrained totals.

Democrats Reminded of Party Pledge

BLYTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) - The Mississippi County Young Democrats have approved a resolution to remind all Democratic standardbearers of their party loyalty oath that pledges them to support the complete ticket of the party.

The organization at first discussed the possibility of a resolution seeking from party officeholders individual declarations of loyalty to Jim Johnson, the party's gubernatorial nominee.

The stronger resolution apparently would have been aimed at Oscar Fendler, a county committeeman who said at the state convention that he would not vote for Johnson because he "campaigns on a platform of hate and bigotry."

Just Possible Mao Has Lion by Tail in His Red Guards

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP) - Where do China's young Red Guards stand? Are they likely to survive as a major force on the Communist mainland?

Organized last spring in Peking, the Red Guards on Aug. 18 won the public backing and sponsorship of Chinese Chairman Mao Tse-tung and military strongman Lin Biao. Since then they have run a feverish course trying to remake a nation of 700 million people overnight, declaring war on old customs, habits and institutions.

They reached their zenith Sept. 15 when Mao and Lin reviewed a million of them in Peking's Gate of Heavenly Peace Square.

Japanese correspondents in the Chinese capital say that the Red Guards have served their purpose: awakening the country just before the critical harvest. Now they will be quietly transformed into a labor reserve for the countryside.

Official Peking, however, indicates they will be around and active for a long time to come.

Their role was noted with official approval at last Saturday's celebration of the 17th anniversary of communism's capture of China.

An anniversary day editorial in the Communist party organ, People's Daily, praised the youths as "the valiant revolutionary Red Guards" and said "they have smashed to smithereens the large amounts of dross and remnant evils, outdated conventions and bad customs left over from the old society."

Then, as though to dispel any idea the guards are a transient thing, it listed them as being among the millions of military and militia who would repulse a U.S. attack.

That the Red Guards will be called upon for action seems more than likely. But now that their initial violence has stirred up the country, the Maoist leadership must discipline and sharpen them for more specific jobs.

Vice Premier Chen Yi told visiting Japanese recently that the party still makes policy decisions, not the guards. But if the guards want to indulge in some hearty, harmless horseplay, such as destroying the statue of the "Goddess of Liberty" at Canton, who can find fault?

New Mexico State Honors Paul Klipsch

University Park, N.M. - Two New Mexico State University graduates whose lives are etched with accomplishments have been selected Distinguished Alumni of 1966.

Paul Klipsch, inventor of the Klipschorn, and Brig. Gen. John Hightower, commander of Fort Dix, N.J., will be honored with special awards at Homecoming October 14, 15.

The pair were selected to receive these annual prizes by members of the Aggie Alumni Association.

A native of Indiana, Klipsch found his way to New Mexico in high school days. He liked the area so he stayed to attend New Mexico State (It was then A & M) to earn a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering. He graduated in 1926.

After commencement he set out for South America where he was a mining engineer for a company there. He remained in that job some four years. During that time he married Eva Bell Huling on the high seas off the coast of Chile.

Returning to the U. S. in 1932, Klipsch spent two years at Stanford University earning the Degree of Engineer. While there, he helped form a chapter of Tau Beta Pi, engineering honor society, which was accepted by the national organization the next year. Klipsch was initiated at the University of Texas. He was also selected for membership in Sigma Xi at Stanford.

Until 1941 Klipsch worked in Houston, then he became a member of the U. S. Army in Arkansas. He retired as a major in 1946, since then he has owned and operated his own company in Hope, Ark. There he manufactures his famous Klipschorn speakers which he originally patented in 1940.

Originally designed for theaters, the Klipschorn features a new method of folding the horn to take advantage of walls and corners. It reduces the standard speaker size from 38 to 16 cubic feet.

Klipsch holds five other patents on loudspeakers and about 10 in geophysics, ordnance, and firearms.

President of the Rotary Club in Hope, Klipsch is also a Shriner, a Mason, a Presbyterian, and a member of Scottish Rite. He was recently elected a fellow in American Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers. At NMSU he was a charter member of Mu Phi Pi, engineering honorary which became Sigma Tau.

Arson Is Suspected in Fire Here

Peyton Place, a Negro cafe on North Hazel, was damaged by fire about 1:30 a.m. today and Fire Chief James Cobb said arson was definitely suspected.

Chief Cobb said a pile of hay, tar paper and kerosene was found in the building. He said the damage to the cafe would run about $200. Firemen put out the blaze before it really got going good.

Russia Asked to Cut Force in Europe

NEW YORK (AP) - President Johnson today, in effect, invited the Soviet Union to consider a reduction of its forces in Europe in the same way the Western Allies are considering such a step.

Recalling that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is studying "what strengths NATO needs in light of changing technology and the current threat," Johnson said:

"Reduction of Soviet forces in Central Europe would, of course, affect the extent of the threat."

In a speech prepared for delivery at the National Conference of Editorial Writers, Johnson said:

"If changing circumstances should lead to a gradual and balanced revision in force levels on both sides, the revision could help gradually to shape a new political environment."

Reviewing U.S. policy toward Europe, Johnson proposed that the United States move ahead on what he called three fronts.

The first would be to "modernize NATO" and strengthen Atlantic institutions. The second, to further the integration of Western Europe, and the third, to "quicken progress in East-West relations."

On the issue of East-West relations, Johnson stressed that "our task is to achieve a reconciliation with the East - a shift from the narrow concept of co-existence to the broader vision of peaceful engagement."

"Americans are prepared to do their part," the President declared, adding:

"Where necessary, we shall defend freedom: where possible, we shall work with the East to build a lasting peace."

He announced the following U.S. actions in this direction:

"The signing today of 'a determination that will allow the Export-Import Bank to guarantee commercial credits to four additional Eastern European countries: Poland, Hungary, Bulgaria and Czechoslovakia."

Japs Relieved Johnson Not Visiting Them

By JOHN RODERICK
T O K Y O (AP) - President Johnson can expect an enthusiastic reception and some demonstrations against U.S. policy in Viet Nam on his Asian tour later this month.

But the government of Japan - America's strongest ally in this part of the world - is relieved he isn't coming to visit it.

Officially, Washington said Johnson wished to avoid embarrassing Prime Minister Eisaku Sato with a visit that would tie Japan to allied participants of the Viet Nam war who meet for a summit conference in Manila Oct. 24-25.

Besides the virtual certainty of anti-American demonstrations and possible violence, leaders of Japan's ruling party believe a Johnson visit could do little for the image of Sato, already besmirched by corruption in his own party.

There is little sentiment in Japan in favor of U.S. prosecution of the Vietnamese war although Japanese industries did a $35-million business supplying the American military machine.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower's American military machine last year.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower was forced to cancel a visit to Japan in 1960 because of ill feeling here over the Japanese-U.S. security treaty. The incident drove Sato's brother, Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi, from office and set back U.S.-Japanese relations.

Speaking to Japanese newsmen Thursday, Vice Foreign Minister Takezo Shimoda said a Johnson visit at this time would stir up suspicion and misunderstanding.

But the general outlook is for big crowds and red-carpet treatment when the U.S. President visits Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines, South Korea, Thailand and Malaysia. Government and press reaction from all six has been enthusiastic.
